

NONAMEY

Artist Bio

Nonamey (they/them) is the pseudonym of Z. Taylor. They are a Portland-based artist, having spent their formative years in Taos, New Mexico. Nonamey has exhibited works in the US & Internationally, notably at the Lucca Biennale, CONTEXT Miami, CONTEXT New York, and the LA Art Show. They are co-founder of the art collective, Dosshaus, active years 2011-2019.

Using cardboard, acrylic, spray paint, and paper, Nonamey has created a body of work varying from sculpture, painting, and installation art.

Growing up in the southwest, they were inspired early on by the relics of Americana: motels with shattered neon, vacant houses, train cars, and found roadside objects. These experiences translate into the work they create today from the banks of the Willamette River.
